THE PRINCE CHARLES HOSPITAL
BRISBANE
Advanced trainee/Senior Registrar/ Fellow

PAEDIATRIC EMERGENCY MEDICINE

Available positions:
Advanced trainees/Senior Registrars /Fellows who are interested in working in a great team and joining our specialist training pathways (Both the RACP and ACEM pathways of the joint training program) from February 2020 onwards.

The Prince Charles Hospital (TPCH):
The Children's service at TPCH started in 2012 and is a rapidly growing and developing service within the hospital. The Prince Charles Hospital is the premier quaternary Cardiology, Cardiothoracic Surgery and Respiratory Centre for the region. The hospital boasts subspecialist programs such as heart and lung transplantation and Adult Cystic Fibrosis as well as General Medicine, Surgery and Psychiatry.

The Children's Emergency Department and Paediatric Services:
The Children's Emergency Department currently sees approximately 30,000 children annually. There is also a Children's ED Short Stay Unit and General Paediatrics ward. The Australasian College of Emergency Medicine accredits the Children's ED for 6 months and the Paediatric Ward for 6 months of advanced training in Paediatric Emergency Medicine. These positions are suitable for ACEM and RACP trainees seeking subspecialist training in the emerging field of Paediatric Emergency Medicine.

Eligibility:
Advanced ACEM or RACP trainees

For Senior registrar/Fellow positions additional eligibility criteria apply:
- Should be within 18 months of completion of fellowship before commencement date
- Minimum of 6 months Paediatric Emergency Medicine experience
- Completion of Fellowship Written Examination or due to sit within 6 months of attaining the position.

Education and Training:
- There is a team of DEMT's who coordinate a dedicated teaching programme with protected teaching time. We provide specific preparation for ACEM fellowship exams, both written and OSCE, with very high success rates.
- Weekly in situ simulations program in the paediatric department.
- Focused Paediatric Emergency Medicine Fellowship Exam Preparation
- ACEM Emergency Medicine Certificate and Diploma Supervision

Each SR/Fellow will be given one or more non-clinical portfolios to manage over a 6-month period. This is a great opportunity to get exposure to non-clinical consultant responsibilities and contribute to the activities of the department. Your role in these portfolios will be highly valued.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT AS A PRINCE CHARLES TRAINEE:
A supportive and friendly environment aiming to provide tertiary level care in a non-tertiary paediatric setting with a proven education program.
We have access to rotations which include Paediatric Emergency, Adult Emergency, General Paediatrics at TPCH as well as Paediatric ICU and Paediatric Emergency at Queensland Children's hospital.

There's a lot to consider in choosing where to train...Are we the right place for you?
We'd love to talk it through with you to explore it some more.
